

Think for a moment of a relationship you have or have had in your life; this can be human or pet 🧑🏻 🧑🏻 🐕 🐈 .

Let the “screenshots” of memories flash by for a moment...can you remember when you first met?

...to more recently, with places you might have visited together, conversations you have had, funny moments, moments of life lessons...then, reflecting on how these experiences over time formed the unique “personality” of this relationship, an integral part of your personal life journey.

This is the inspiration behind the 4 track EP “pieces of us,” those unique memories and experiences that create the history of a relationship, released on 9/1/23 with Netherlands-based Andante Piano.

Literally 4 pieces, each track explores the facets of these deeper, enduring relationships beginning with “pieces of us” which is about the collection of memories that become a fabric between another person (or 4-legged 🤗 🐶 🐱), followed by “eyes like water,” depicting the depth of history and truth revealed when we have the courage to look into the eyes of another. This is followed by “time,” the mysterious truth teller, where hindsight reveals enlightening clarity, and finally “daybreak,” which lets us fall into that glow of a memory when we first had that conversation with time spent where we just never wanted it to end 🌈 ❤️.

Many thanks for your awesome support which keeps me coming back for more creative pursuits 🙏🎵🎹
